

Welcome to your Globethics Learning Journey!

Ethical leadership is at the heart of Globethics' vision for a just, inclusive and sustainable world. Your decision to invest in your professional development by opting for one or several of our open and executive courses, is a decision for such an ethical leadership that aims at making a difference in your communities and in your professional contexts, for which we congratulate you.

Our entire team welcomes you most cordially at the beginning of this new semester and wishes you an enriching learning journey!

Together with our expert course instructors and co-participants you will explore a plethora of highly relevant ethical fields and topics. We are also pleased to announce that all our courses are ECTS-programme accredited. Whether you have opted for a course of our ethics in higher education suite, our newly designed and most actual course on cyber ethics, or will embark on gaining competencies in responsible leadership or interreligious cooperation for peace – You will discover that you will not only build your own capacities, but also learn how to apply knowledge, develop solutions for challenges and effect positive change in your respective contexts.

It all starts with a resolution to be intentional with one's own educational journey, so that others can be empowered to lead better lives. With Globethics you will have the opportunity to be part of an international, values-oriented community. We will offer you a wealth of specialized ethics resources through our open access library and publications house, and you can participate in our academic life events (www.globethics.net/blue-table-webinars) and the broader conferencing programme of our institution (<https://www.globethics.net/events>).

The entire Globethics Academy team and your course instructors will accompany you throughout this semester. We will be delighted to respond to any of your questions and assist you with any need you may have. Please do not hesitate to contact us at academy@globethics.net.

May you all have a most inspirational time of studies!

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Dr Amélie Ekué
Globethics
Academic Dean